

Anguo Liu is an undergraduate student in the School of Electrical Engineering and Automation, Fuzhou University, Fuzhou, China. His research interests include digital control technology and its application in the industrial Internet of Thing. He has authored one paper presented in the 31st Chinese Control and Decision Conference (CCDC 2019) and another paper published in IEEE Access.